

Weekly Announcement October 11, 2018

Barbara Meese's last day at church is this Sunday, October 14th
We will miss you Barbara.

October 21st - Laity Sunday is a Special Sunday established by the General Conference and scheduled for the third Sunday in October. This day provides a focused opportunity to celebrate the ministry of all Lay Christians.

We have something very special planned for Laity Sunday this year. Thanks to a generous anonymous contribution, we will enjoy the special, powerful musical ministry of a black gospel group from Denver, a group that performed in Vail earlier this year. Plan coming early to find your seat; we expect a standing-room-only crowd. The performance will last about 45 minutes; the entire service will be about an hour and 15 minutes long. You won't want to miss it. Mark your calendar and look for more information.

Read entire message for important, upcoming events. I recommend that you scroll all the way to the bottom of your email window and click "view entire message" it will allow you to read all the announcements easily.

Taking Care of Pop

Hugo and Jacki Benson are the owners of the Old Gypsum Printer in Gypsum. Recently, Jacki wrote a series of stories about the adventures, misadventures and surprises of taking care of Hugo's father after dementia had begun to take a toll on him. In a series of sometimes humorous, sometimes painful experiences, Jacki and Hugo found their personal faith stretched and strengthened as they cared for their loved one. In this series of short stories titled, Taking Care of Pop, Jacki and Hugo give us insights into what it takes to care for an aging parent. Attached is the Introduction to the series, Taking Care of Pop.
